Mary Zeigler candidate for Mayor of Augusta

I am excited to announce that I, Mary Habermehl Zeigler, am seeking election as Mayor of Augusta. It would be an honor to continue my service to Augusta. I have spent the past eight years working to make Augusta a great place to live. The experiences I have gained on council and by serving as Vice Mayor have given me the tools I will need to be an effective leader. Please vote Mary Habermehl Zeigler on November 4th as the next Mayor of Augusta. Thank you for your continued support.

Another successful “Swingtime on the River” enjoyed in Augusta

Shown above are some of the members of the Swingtime Big Band performing Saturday evening.

The 10th annual “Swingtime on the River” held this past Saturday in Augusta, fell on a beautiful crisp September evening. Despite the coolness of Autumn setting in, Saturday’s weather was just perfect for dancing to the big band music of the Swingtime Big Band from northern Kentucky. Regular attendees of the annual event along with newcomers, enjoyed sitting along Riverside Drive eating delicious food, talking and laughing with friends, watching the river roll silently along, and dancing to big band era favorites, Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy and Come Rain or Come Shine.

The evening was brought to a spectacular finish with a fireworks display set off during the final song, My Way.

Every first and third Saturday evenings the band can be enjoyed at the York Street Cafe in Newport, with their next appearance being on Saturday, September 20th from 7:30-11 p.m. For their schedule and playlist, visit www.swingtimebigband.com.

Bracken 911 Board receives $70,000 for new equipment

Magistrates and attendees of the Bracken County Fiscal Court meeting on Wednesday, September 10th, were informed the Bracken County 911 Board had received a $70,000 grant from the Kentucky Commercial Mobile Radio Service Board for the purchase of 911 Controller Equipment. Chief Dispatcher, Tony Mains, received the news of the grant on Thursday, September 4th, during the Kentucky EMS Conference in Louisville. Bracken’s $70,000 was only a small portion of the $3.6 million in grants given away by the Commercial Mobile Radio Service.

In looking to replace the current 911 Controller Equipment, that has been in use since November of 1999, Mains was originally quoted the cost of $208,000. With determination and research, Mains found and applied for the $70,000 grant at the end of June. Through the Central Kentucky 911 Net program, Bracken County’s 911 will become a remote handled by the IP based system of the host, Lexington Fayette Urban County Government.

The grant will cover the purchase, installation and staff training needed for the new equipment. Installation is expected to begin in February or March of 2015.

Bracken County “Relay For Life” raises $23,974, total expected to increase

This year’s “Relay For Life Rally” was held Friday evening, September 12th at the Augusta Boat Dock. Former Relay Chairman LuAnn Doyle was the event speaker. She spoke on the importance of holding local events and the impact local donors can have on research and the monies raised to fund the research of new treatments, drugs, and prevention screenings. The survival rate for breast cancer over the last 50 years has increased from approximately 25% to closer to 77%. This is due to the advances made through research. She proudly stepped forward to receive her survivor medal with friends and community members who have fought the fight she recently went through with her cancer diagnosis. The survivors then took to the walking track as a visible reminder of the importance of the local fund-raising events. Donations to the Bracken County Relay For Life will continue to be accepted through December 31, 2014. More pictures can be seen in next week’s issue.

Mrs. C. E. Florer continues to keep on hand a large and well selected stock of Millinery Goods of all kinds. Ladies desiring any thing in her line, will do well to examine her stock and prices.

We call the attention of our readers to fact that Mrs. Eliza Powell, is prepared to accommodate her customers with the latest novelties in Millinery Goods. Give her a call and satisfy yourselves.

A treasure of a cook—is not hysterical whenever there is company to dinner. A treasure of a baby—doesn't disturb its "dear papa" in the middle of the night.

A few days since we had the pleasure of a drive on the road from this place to Augusta, and were delighted to see the rich crops growing on every hand. Providence seems to have smiled upon the labors or our many friends residing along this road. Our attention was especially called to the rich crop of wheat just harvested by Mr. Thomas Lloyd, who is evidently a good manager and thrifty farmer, as well as a polite, affable gentleman, noted for his hospitality and many other high points.

Thoughts and Meditations from the Scriptures

SEIZE THE DAY AFTER TOMORROW

We are told in a variety of ways to seize the day: Carpe Diem; eat, drink and be merry; and in short, enjoy life while you can, for tomorrow we may die. But, more likely we will not die tomorrow and so there is something to be said for delaying gratification and planning for the future. All of this talk of seizing the day, when taken even half seriously, is often just a way to rationalize not planning and preparing for the future. This doesn't mean we have to be overly anxious about the future, but it does mean that we should plan prudently for a long and healthy life. Two good ways to do this are education and saving. Aristotle claimed that education is the best provision for old age, presumably because it cultivates the mind and allows one to reflect on the most important things, i.e., the divine things and how to live a virtuous life. And of course we should be saving for that proverbial rainy day, for assuredly, for most of us at least, tomorrow will come, and the day after tomorrow as well. He who does not plan for the future is ensuring that it will be a meager one. — Christopher Simon

The point is this: whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. - 2 Corinthians 9:6

GREETINGS FROM ST. JAMES by Caroline Jefferson

How deeply shocked and saddened were our St. James parishioners this past Sunday when Ms. Debbie announced that our large speaker that is used in the choir loft had been stolen sometime between our Mass on Sunday, September 7 and this past Saturday, September 13! For as many years as any of us can remember, St. James Church doors have been opened during the day to allow anyone to come in and sit and talk with the Lord! It goes against the grain of everyone, especially native Bracken County residents, to know that these church doors must be barred in order to keep thieves from stealing from the church! This was a large speaker and would possibly have required two people to remove from the very steep stairs that lead to the choir. If anyone saw any suspicious activity the week of September 7 thru September 13 at St. James Church, please give a call to the Sheriff's Office. We are praying for this person(s) because their situation must be extreme if they must resort to stealing and especially stealing from a house of the Lord's! May God bless this community and keep it safe!

PRESBYTERIAN POTPOURRI by Susie Hargett

What a beautiful day to be in the House of the Lord! There were 47 present to offer praise and thanksgiving to God! Such a blessing!

We were so glad to welcome Roger & Sherry Cheesbro in Les and Kay's absence. They were taking a 4 day trip to Minneapolis and Chicago. Roger brought us such a good message on faithfulness and commitment.

Lynn Darnell was our worship leader. Susie Hargett led the singing. Gretchen England was the Children's Church leader.

We had a good night at Soup Supper. It is always such a joyous time when men and women and children gather together in The Lord's House in unity! There was much discussion about the "Coat Ministry"! I think they will start organizing later this week so that we can begin getting outerwear out into the community to protect those who need a coat or hat or gloves. If you have coats or other warm clothing to donate please contact anyone in the church, or call 402-0477 to arrange to drop off!

Also, it will soon be time for our Annual Thanksgiving Carryout Meal! We have made plans to combine it with the Soup Supper this year! We will open our doors to receive our regular SS family for fellowship and Thanksgiving Meal, and we will also be delivering meals that night to those who cannot come out to the church. That meal is set for Monday night, November 17! We look forward to serving you all again!

Division of Forestry Taking Orders for Tree Seedlings

Trees improve wildlife habitat, protect soil, and reduce effects of heat

With fall just around the corner, the Kentucky Division of Forestry is encouraging Kentuckians to plan their tree-planting activities now by ordering tree seedlings through the Kentucky Division of Forestry (KDF).

By placing your order now, you can select from more than 50 species of trees including white pine, bald cypress, black walnut, white oak, yellow-poplar, dogwood, redbud, pawpaw, hazelnut, pecan and many more. These bare-root seedlings can be used by private landowners, as well as the public sector for reforestation, wildlife habitat development, erosion control, windbreaks and numerous other conservation projects.

Businesses are encouraged to purchase seedlings and give them to customers for promotional purposes or give seedlings to their employees as a reward or perk. Businesses and individuals regularly purchase seedlings and donate them to a school for students to take home or to community tree planting events as a sponsor.

If you want to make a difference but do not have a site to plant trees, consider becoming part of Kentucky's 20/20 Vision for Reforestation, which was initiated by Gov. Steve Beshear.

The project utilizes Kentucky's Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, along with other civic groups, to assist with the planting of bare root tree seedlings produced by KDF. The plantings take place on both public and private lands with a goal to plant 20 million seedlings over the next 20 years, making it currently the most ambitious tree planting project of its kind in the nation. ADAM H. EDELEN AUDITOR OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

The Honorable Earl Bush, Bracken County Judge/Executive
The Honorable Howard Niemeier, Bracken County Sheriff
Members of the Bracken County Fiscal Court

Independent Auditor's Report

Report on the Financial Statement

We have audited the accompanying statement of revenues, expenditures, and excess fees - regulatory basis of the County Sheriff of Bracken County, Kentucky, for the year ended December 31, 2013, and the related notes to the financial statement.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statement

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statement in accordance with accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the laws of Kentucky to demonstrate compliance with the Commonwealth of Kentucky's regulatory basis of accounting as described in Note 1. Management is also responsible for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statement that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statement based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, and the Audit Guide for County Fee Officials issued by the Auditor of Public Accounts, Commonwealth of Kentucky. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statement, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statement in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statement. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinions.

Basis for Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

As described in Note 1 of the financial statement, the financial statement is prepared by the County Sheriff on the basis of the accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the laws of Kentucky to demonstrate compliance with the Commonwealth of Kentucky's regulatory basis of accounting, which is a basis of accounting other than accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The effects on the financial statement of the variances between the regulatory basis of accounting described in Note 1 and accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, although not reasonably determinable, are presumed to be material.

Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

In our opinion, because of the significance of the matter discussed in the Basis for Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles paragraph, the financial statement referred to above does not present fairly, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, the financial position of each fund of the County Sheriff, as of December 31, 2013, or changes in financial position or cash flows thereof for the year then ended.

Opinion on Regulatory Basis of Accounting

In our opinion, the financial statement referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the revenues, expenditures, and excess fees of the County Sheriff for the year ended December 31, 2013, in accordance with the basis of accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Commonwealth of Kentucky as described in Note 1.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated May 29, 2014 on our consideration of the Bracken County Sheriff's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts and grant agreements, and other matters. The purpose of that report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the Bracken County Sheriff's internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. This report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the entity's internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

Respectfully submitted,
Adam H. Edelen

HMH Laboratory Department begins new era in testing

The Harrison Memorial Hospital (HMH) Laboratory Department is pleased to announce new microbiology testing called Polymerization Chain Reaction (PCR). PCR is the most recent state-of-the-art process whereby a small, single strand of DNA is isolated and then duplicated repeatedly until it can be detected.

Since PCR is the most accurate and sensitive procedure available and because DNA is present in all living beings, PCR is used for a wide variety of testing including genetics, gene therapy, forensics investigations and as it pertains to HMH, infectious diseases. The lab instrument is called FilmArray, which is early in development for smaller healthcare facilities. Physicians now can order all tests to cover a specific disease.

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has approved the three panels available. The gastrointestinal panel detects 14 species of bacteria, four parasite species, and five virus species, all known to cause gastrointestinal issues. The upper respiratory panel tests for 17 virus species and three species of bacteria. The third panel available is the blood culture identification, which tests for bacteria and three main types of bacterial resistance. Each panel takes approximately one hour to perform, as opposed to the routine bacterial culture which takes 48-72 hours.

“We all commonly suffer from these types of diseases, but this new testing allows us to perform the one test and get multiple results, therefore, zeroing in on exactly the cause of that infection,” says Sheila Currans, HMH Chief Executive Officer.

More panels are in the research phase and are planned to be released in 2015, following FDA clearance. In the future, tests, which were not available for two to three days will be available the same day. The testing will enable patients to receive timely, accurate diagnosis and treatment.

The HMH Laboratory is accredited by the College of American Pathologists (CAP). The CAP Laboratory Accreditation Program, begun in the early 1960s, is recognized by the federal government as being equal or more stringent than the government’s own inspection program.

The HMH Laboratory Department is a full-service lab providing quick, convenient service for lab screenings/testing. The lab is staffed 24 hours, seven days a week and makes every effort to accommodate patients. Special arrangements can be made with advance notice. The lab staff is made up of phlebotomists, medical laboratory technicians (MLT) and medical technologists (MT).

The outpatient laboratory is located on the first floor on your left after exiting the hospital’s main lobby. Private areas are provided for patients to have blood drawn by our qualified phlebotomists. Operating hours are: Monday - Friday from 7:00 a.m. - 6:30 p.m. and Saturday from 7:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m.

Additional tests and screenings available are: CBC, or comprehensive blood count; CMP, or comprehensive metabolic panel; BMP, or basic metabolic panel; PT, or prothrombin time; this is commonly used for patients using blood thinners to ensure blood is thin enough; Extensive thyroid testing; Cancer markers, or indicators of progression or remission of disease like prostate and colon cancers; Lipid panel, cholesterol testing for HDL and LDL levels; Urinalysis; DNA collection and paternity testing collections.

For more information about the HMH Laboratory Department, please visit the website at www.harrison-memhosp.com.

ADAM H. EDELEN AUDITOR OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

The Honorable Earl Bush, Bracken County Judge/Executive
The Honorable Rae Jean Poe, Bracken County Clerk
Members of the Bracken County Fiscal Court

Independent Auditor’s Report

Report on the Financial Statement

We have audited the accompanying statement of revenues, expenditures, and excess fees - regulatory basis of the County Clerk of Bracken County, Kentucky, for the year ended December 31, 2013, and the related notes to the financial statement.

Management’s Responsibility for the Financial Statement

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of this financial statement in accordance with accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the laws of Kentucky to demonstrate compliance with the Commonwealth of Kentucky’s regulatory basis of accounting as described in Note 1. Management is also responsible for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of a financial statement that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor’s Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this financial statement based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, and the Audit Guide for County Fee Officials issued by the Auditor of Public Accounts, Commonwealth of Kentucky. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statement, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity’s preparation and fair presentation of the financial statement in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity’s internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statement. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinions.

Basis for Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

As described in Note 1 of the financial statement, the financial statement is prepared by the County Clerk on the basis of the accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the laws of Kentucky to demonstrate compliance with the Commonwealth of Kentucky’s regulatory basis of accounting, which is a basis of accounting other than accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The effects on the financial statement of the variances between the regulatory basis of accounting described in Note 1 and accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, although not reasonably determinable, are presumed to be material.

Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

In our opinion, because of the significance of the matter discussed in the Basis for Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles paragraph, the financial statement referred to above does not present fairly, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, the financial position of each fund of the County Clerk, as of December 31, 2013, or changes in financial position or cash flows thereof for the year then ended.

Opinion on Regulatory Basis of Accounting

In our opinion, the financial statement referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the revenues, expenditures, and excess fees of the County Clerk for the year ended December 31, 2013, in accordance with the basis of accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Commonwealth of Kentucky as described in Note 1.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated May 29, 2014 on our consideration of the Bracken County Clerk’s internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts and grant agreements, and other matters. The purpose of that report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the Bracken County Clerk’s internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the entity’s internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

Respectfully submitted,

Adam H. Edelen

TRASH TALK

by: Mr. Recycle Bin & Ms. Pick-Up Litterbug

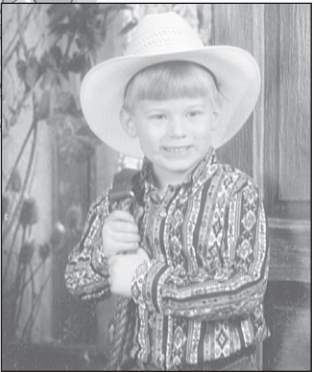

606-735-9960

Howdy Folks! Great news!! Mrs. Donna Rath has recently informed us of her grant approval from the Soil Conservation Agency. Some of these funds can be utilized for roll-offs this fall season! Ideally, we would get two or three dumpsters by the last week in September, but we are not alone in this adventure! As in so many occurrences in our lives, timing is everything and we need to coordinate availability of roll-offs with the Mason County Landfill, along with the availability of manpower from our County Road Department. We have contacted the Mason County Landfill and they are experiencing a surge in the need for large dumpsters, so we may have to resort to the use of somewhat smaller containers. If this is the case, then those who intend to use the dumpsters must get prepared now to do a much better job when they put their trash and debris into the container. Absolutely, we will not have room for tires! As stated many times in the past, tires must be included in the cost of the weight of the dumpster and then paid for individually which means we expend double the funds to dispose of tires. Please be considerate and responsible and do not put tires into these roll-offs when they arrive! Also, we have spoken with Stacey Florer, County Road Department Supervisor, and as always, he will plan their work to include assisting us for which we are most grateful! There will be more information on the location and times of these dumpsters forthcoming.

As soon as possible, we will be getting the Fall Road Clean organized. This will be the last trash pickup of the season so our Litter Patrol Workers need to be very diligent in the thorough cleaning of their assigned roads. It would be wonderful if our litterbugs would get an attitude adjustment and realize that littering is not only against the law, but so very harmful to the earth that ultimately sustains and nourishes us! If not picked up, aluminum cans will remain in the ditches, fields and streams for hundreds of years. Glass will never deteriorate as evidenced by the many bottles from the sixties and seventies that are still being picked up by the groups participating in our litter pickups! Having taken part in many trash removal adventures, we can attest to the still current existence these very old bottles, cans and plastic containers! Granted, the plastic and Styrofoam containers break down into smaller pieces, but they will never biodegrade into useable soil! They will always be pellets of Styrofoam and minute pieces of plastic which will never grow anything and eventually, choke the growth of plants and trees. It is the responsibility of each citizen to care for the earth while we have the life and breath to do it!

Life is a most precious gift and unfortunately, we never know when that gift will be taken away as was the case with Mr. Jim Boney this past Thursday. Jim's wife Carol is the daughter of the late Bill and Vette Wallin and we know many of you remember Bill as Brooksville's Mayor for several years. Sudden and unexpected deaths such as Jim's remind each of us that we should live each day as if it were our last. Our sincerest sympathy to the family and to each of you who have recently lost a loved one as we understand your pain.

Legendary Buffalo Soldier Colonel Charles Young Returning Home

On September 28, 2014, Maysville Community and Technical College, the National Coalition of Black Veteran Organizations and Mason County Government are hosting an event in May's Lick, Kentucky honoring the legacy of Colonel Charles Young. The event is to mark the restoration of the birth cabin of Colonel Charles Young and premier a commissioned bronze maquette of his likeness and an exhibition entitled The Man, The Mission, The Facts.

"The National Coalition of Black Veterans has worked diligently to honor the Colonel and advocate for his honorary elevation to Brigadier General," said Millicent Harding, Director of Cultural Diversity at Maysville Community and Technical College. "The restoration of his birth home and its designation as a valuable historical monument is another step in the Coalition's fight to not only honor Col. Young, but all black soldiers throughout American history."

Young was born into slavery in May's Lick on March 12, 1864. His parents, Gabriel and Arminta Young, moved the family to Ripley, Ohio, in 1866. Young thrived there and, in 1881 at age 17, he graduated with academic honors as a member of his integrated high school class. His mother encouraged his life-long intellectual and musical pursuits. Young grew up proud of his father's military service as a Union soldier during the Civil War, and he heeded his father's advice by entering the United States Military Academy at West Point. In 1889, Young was the third African American to graduate from West Point and the last African American to complete West Point until 1936.

Young was the highest ranking African-American commanding officer in the United States Army from 1894 until his death in 1922. He also served as the first African-American superintendent of a national park, overseeing Sequoia and General Grant (now Kings Canyon) National Parks while commanding a troop of Buffalo Soldiers in the years before the creation of the National Park Service.

The Sunday program will begin with a commemorative church service held at the Second Baptist Church in May's Lick at 11:00 a.m. Established in 1859, the church is where the Young Family worshipped when they resided in the community. The service will be officiated by Pastor Rodney Bennett. Following the church service, the maquette and photo exhibit will be unveiled at the birth cabin of Colonel Charles Young in Mayslick at 1:15 p.m. A reception will follow sponsored by the Ledger Independent Newspaper.

Following the May's Lick presentation, the maquette and picture exhibition will travel to Louisville. The presentation will open in the Kentucky Center for African American Heritage on October 12 and will remain on display through the end of the month. The Louisville event is being co-sponsored by the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc. of which Colonel Young is an honorary member.

For information on the event contact Millicent Harding, MCTC Director of Cultural Diversity, at 606-759-7141 ext. 66196 or millicent.harding@kctcs.edu.

A Day to Eat Dinner With Your Children

Monday, September 22, 2014

Research from the National Center on Addiction and Substance Abuse at Columbia University consistently finds that the more often children eat dinner with their families, the less likely they are to smoke, drink, or use drugs. Family meals are the perfect time to talk with your kids and to listen to what's on their mind. It doesn't matter if the meal is home-cooked, take out or you're dining in a restaurant. It's the togetherness that makes the difference. Let the start of one good habit lead to more...

The following restaurants are offering specials to help promote Family Day:

MAYSVILLE

Greg's Pizza:

4 free drinks with the purchase of a large pizza, dine-in only.

deSha's:

Kids eat free from the kids menu—Ages 10 & under with each paying adult.

Addressing Addiction and Substance Abuse . . . Will You Be Part of the Solution?

Have you, your family, or a close friend struggled with the disease of addiction? If so, you have ridden the roller coaster of experiences and emotions that range from joy to anger to despair that accompany the disease of addiction. You also have encountered the maze of or lack of. Information regarding treatment, support groups, legal consequences, and costs for both the addict and their loved ones. You spend much of your time wondering how did you or your loved one get to this point. What did you or your loved one do wrong?

If you do not have a personal experience with addiction, you are very lucky, but you need to realize that this disease is impacting you indirectly if you live in Bracken County. Do you know that we have had several babies born addicted to drugs in Bracken County during the last year that have become wards of the court which uses our local resources of dollars and time? Has your home or car been burglarized recently? Addicts looking for money or resources to buy their drug of choice have committed many of the recent burglaries. As you can see, every citizen of Bracken County is being impacted by disease of addiction.

During March and April 2014, there were several town hall meetings throughout the county sponsored by both Sheriff Howard Neimeier and the regional Buffalo Trace A-SAP Board. Attendees heard personal stories of addiction and loss from the perspective of the families and recovering addicts; information regarding addiction, treatment, recovery, and loss of life from the medical and coroner communities, and the impact that addiction and substance abuse have on society as seen through the eyes of the legal system—arrests, court cases, and jail time. As a result of the town hall meetings, many citizens came together on May 1, 2014, at Bracken County High School to identify issues of concern regarding addiction, substance abuse – especially with the drug, heroin, which is the drug of choice, for many addicts. – and the negative impact on our community. An action plan was developed: to focus on a comprehensive plan for the following:

Preventive Education Plan for Students in the Augusta and Bracken County School Districts; Development of Resources and Activities for Families--Education & Support; Create Opportunities for Community Engagement for Youth and Young Adults; Develop Public Relations Campaign -Addiction & Substance Abuse Issues; and Identify Funding & Grant Opportunities for the Above Activities.

The next meeting of the Bracken County Citizens Working Together will be held on Thursday, September 25, 2014, at 6:00 p.m. in the Augusta Independent Schools library. The program for that evening includes a presentation from Mike Barry, CEO of the Kentucky PAR (People Advocating Recovery) and Jason Merrick, Chair of the Northern Kentucky PAR organization on how the PAR structure may assist the Bracken County community to address the issues of addiction, substance abuse, treatment, and recovery. Other program items include updates and group work time for the above activities. All citizens interested in addressing the problems of addiction and substance abuse positively are invited to attend the meeting on September 25, 2014. Please contact Lisa McCane, Augusta Schools Superintendent, by September 23, 2014, at 606-756- 2545 or lisa.mccane@augusta.kyschools.us if you plan to attend. Your contact prior to the meeting assists organizers with planning for refreshments, seating, and parking.

As citizens, we can sit back and blame others for the issues and impact of addiction and substance abuse on our county OR we can step up and become part of the solution!

Card of Thanks

The family of June Bess would like to say thank you and tell everyone how incredibly grateful we are for the support we received after her passing.

For everyone who came to the visitation & funeral, we want you to know just how deeply we appreciated having you there. We know a lot of you came after working all day, many drove long distances and then had to stand in line. It took time and effort and in an age when time is so precious, you chose to spend that time with us. The gift of your time, seeing you there and hearing your words & memories, gave us strength & comfort in our time of grief.

The flowers you sent were especially meaningful to us and would have meant so much to our mom. No matter how bad she felt during her illness, flowers always cheered her up.

So many people sent food and we can't tell you what a blessing it was to have something to eat appear just when we needed it most.

Thank you for the tremendous number of cards. They were a reminder of how many people her life touched and they were a reminder of how our memories of her will continue despite her passing.

We are so blessed to be a part of such a caring community.

The June Bess Family

KY Farm Bureau seeks applicants for its new Agricultural Innovation Exchange Program

Necessity, ingenuity and the desire for greater efficiency often lead farmers to develop homegrown solutions for many of their daily challenges, and Kentucky Farm Bureau (KFB) seeks to honor those who have excelled with creating such inventions through its Agricultural Innovation Exchange Program. KFB is calling for applicants in this new competition now through October 1, 2014.

The Agricultural Innovation Exchange Program was initiated to help surface inventions, equipment modifications, innovative cropping systems, marketing techniques, management methodologies and other creative farming practices developed by KFB members. The program encourages KFB members to share their innovations with other farmers and to help them find new ways to cut costs, improve efficiencies, protect or improve the environment and increase net income.

This competition is currently open and seeking applicants to identify original, agriculturally-oriented innovations that make work around the farm easier, faster or more effective. A downloadable application, complete with outline of the contest's rules and entry guidelines, is available at kyfb.com/federation. All applications and supporting documentation must be received at the KFB state office by October 1, 2014.

Judging of the Agricultural Innovation Exchange Program will take place later this fall and up to three winners will be selected and recognized on December 4 during the 2014 KFB Annual Meeting in Louisville. Winners will be awarded space at the annual meeting's tradeshow to present their innovations to attendees, provided with overnight accommodations at the Galt House Hotel, and presented with a plaque and a tiered cash prize – $300 for first place, $200 for second place, and $100 for third place.

Concussion Workshop held at Bracken Co. Extension Office

Those in attendance were: Mary Hargett (Tiger Football), Rebecca Hargett (Augusta Public School Nurse), Joe Crouch, Jeff Crawford, Phil White, Jason Hinson, Rebecca Arnold, and Roy Machen, III, (Augusta Public Schools), and Amy Mains, RN (Bracken County Health Department).

Clean It Up

Many gardeners give up on their garden when production declines, but to many anthropod pests that you have been battling, your garden can still be a paradise. Although we have taken most edible portions of these plants, pests still find food and shelter among the aging plants and weeds. Many insect pests are able to complete development in a crop residues long after the last fruits are picked. Some acquire disease-causing organisms that are used to infest young plants next year. Rank weed growth after harvest can also attract certain pests which may create problems for next season.

Several of the more serious insect pests such as European corn borer, squash vine borer, Mexican bean beetle, squash bug, diamondback moth, tomato hornworm, and cabbage worm are able to continue development on crop residues in the garden. Other pests such as flea beetles find food and shelter amongst the weeds throughout the winter. The two-spotted spider mites continue to feed on weeds after the crops have withered.

Destroy crop residues shortly after harvest to discourage pests from completing the fall development. Many insects need to attain a certain size or stage in order to survive winter. Removing crop residues may also reduce pests survival by exposing them to winter elements. Weeds and crop residues can serve as insulation from frost and freezing.

Destroying cucumber and melon residues not only reduces food and shelter for cucumber beetles, but also reduces the acquisition of bacterial wilt which cucumber beetles store in their gut during winter to start the disease cycle next year.

Home gardeners can compost or till residues into the soil. It is important to keep in mind that this is not only a fall practice. As soon as a crop has been harvested for the last time, clean up should begin, even if it is early summer for spring crops.

While many of these practices may not prevent pest problems from occurring, they will help delay or reduce the extent of insect in the garden.

Mark Stoops reaction to 3OT loss at Swamp is Patton-esque

Kentucky's three overtime at the Swamp was reason for Big Blue Nation to settle for and savor a feel-good-open-date this week, right? Wrong.

Coach Mark Stoops was not satisfied.

Graybeard UK fans who have endured a parade of too many Bear Bryant wannabes over seven decades and too few Rodger Bird and Art Still caliber athletes, may have some of both, and a coach not interested in playing games close.

Stoops was hard-jawed and George Patton-like after Saturday at the swamp.

His sideline gyration and menace for nearest man in stripe shirt was unrelenting. In the end he was in no mood for silver lining accolades for a close one. Body language said: 'There is no moral victory in losing, even on the road in three overtimes.'

Stoops could well have paraphrased the brusque Army general (i.e George C. Scott): "Kentuckians love a winner and will not tolerate a loser. At UK we play to win all the time. (And) I wouldn't give a hoot in hell for a man who lost and laughed."

Nobody in blue was laughing.

"We'll go home and get back to work," the coach said.

TAKE-AWAYS from Kentucky's All-New-People Wildcats first crusade to Gainesville?

√ Florida fan: "Hey, Kentucky's got some SEC caliber athletes, a bunch of 'em."

√ A 3-3 score at halftime trash talk spent on JoJo Kemp had given way to wondering if the UK running back's bulletin board talk might be prophecy.

√ A prime time quarterback with prime time skills. Field general poise (Tim Couch) and resolute toughness (Bill Ransdell).

√ SEC Network. Jesse

Palmer and Brent Musburger provided narrative and high praise for Patrick Towles and recruiting rah-rah.

√ Paraphrasing a nugget from Palmer: "Kentucky is showing that, even with lots of freshmen and sophomores, a turn-around in short time IS possible."

√ Next game: Having cuffed Kentucky convincingly the last two years, Vanderbilt coming to Lexington September 27, should have ... no chance.

√ Comical joy for UK fans watching on SEC-Network, seeing Gator fans stares of disbelief as Kentucky not only refused to surrender in another fourth quarter, but more, Stoops' team had Florida by its throat.

LOUISVILLE'S 'TRAP(PED) GAME'

Classic ambush, was Louisville's stunning loss at Virginia. All the ingredients were there.

A severe underdog at home to a top 25 visitor; spotty fan support on a gorgeous Saturday, fueled an us-against-the-world fire.

UofL was ripe. Inflated sense of self based on putting 66 points on poor Murray State; a climb to No. 21 in the polls; and favored to make Virginia a walk in the park to top pedestal in ACC standings.

Added to these factors, what looked to be poor preparation. The Cardinals played in a fog for a half, rallied to take a lead then tried to waltz home. Louisville was not ready for Virginia.

By Sunday there was no media talking head accolades being showered on Bob Petrino for coaching genius. UofL had fallen in a Trap Game.

SEC NETWORK: WHERE'S THE TRIBUTE?

The SEC Television Network is a month beyond self-congratulating toasts salutary toasts for league officials, ball coaches and mega bean counters.

So, where is tribute to those who made it happen?

Not a single shot of bourbon to honor Adolph Rupp and fellow founders for new prosperity come to the Old South by way of football and basketball.

Where is programming to educate new viewers who might believe the SEC cornerstone founders were Bo Jackson, Charles Barkley, Pete Maravich and Joe Dean Senior.

For now, here is tribute to founders who made the SEC Network possible.

• General Robert Neyland. Coached 21 seasons at Tennessee through 1052. Of every 10 games played, his Vols won eight; earned seven SEC titles and four national championships. Neyland Stadium seats filled on a Saturday makes the place more than half the size of Knoxville, 178,874.

• Der Baron Adolph Rupp. Whipped SEC schools into getting serious about basketball; national coach of the year four times, 27 SEC titles and four national championships.

• Pat Summitt. Began in 1974 doing for women's hoops what Rupp did for the men's game, laid the wood to all league rivals; brought eight NCAA national titles to Knoxville; college basketball's winningest coach (1974-2012); Naismith Basketball Coach of the Century in 2000. Today, Summitt is, to many, the face of SEC basketball.

• Paul 'Bear' Bryant. Integrated Alabama football; Is the face of college football.

And so, when the SEC Network gets around to it, If the league's Mount Rushmore – Neyland, Rupp, Summitt and the Bear.

BG STREAK IN PERIL?

Bowling Green's 42-34 win over Owensboro last week pushed the Purples win streak to 48, within striking distance of Louisville Trinity's state record 50.

With injuries adding to streak pressure, Bowling Green's roll is in peril this week. Tennessee powerhouse McCallie School visits. The Blue Tornado has scored 44, 49, 59 and 49 points in four wins.

And so it goes.

CITY OF BROOKSVILLE SECOND READING OF ORDINANCE NUMBER 14-002

An Ordinance relating to the establishment of the Augusta Regional Sewer Authority, Inc. and charging same with ownership, operation and management of designated wastewater facilities and the determination of cost based rates for wastewater services. The County of Bracken has determined that the best interest of its constituents are best served by joint and cooperative action with the City of Augusta and City of Brookville to provide cost effective, high quality wastewater collections, protect the environment and enhance the economic competitiveness of the region.

Consequently, in accord with statutory authorities and upon passage of this Ordinance, each Party hereby authorizes the creation of a non-profit corporation which shall be an agent and instrumentality of the Parties to be known as "Augusta Regional Sewer Authority, Inc." ("Authority"). The Authority shall have legal authority and attendant responsibility to own, operate and maintain wastewater treatment facilities to include, but not be limited to: wastewater treatment plant(s), pumping facilities, gravity and force mains, lateral collection lines and related appurtenances, and to manage these facilities as a public service enterprise capable of accommodating the current and future wastewater needs of Augusta, Brooksville and adjacent, unsewered portions of Bracken County.

In approving this Ordinance, the three entities will authorize the creation of the Authority, as herein set out, and agrees to assist and support the Authority as it develops a funding package and procures engineering services for the construction of a region-serving wastewater treatment plant and necessary collection mains to transport the waste stream to this treatment facility.

It is further agreed among the Parties that the procedure for establishing service rates shall be based on the actual costs of providing the wastewater services to the wastewater customers.

The full text of this ordinance (Ordinance 14-002) is available in the City of Brooksville Clerk's Office during regular working hours.

Underground re-enactment at museum in Ripley, OH on Sunday, October 12

The John P. Parker Museum, Ripley Heritage, and the Ohio River National Freedom Corridor will be hosting an Underground Railroad re-enactment at the park adjacent to the Parker Museum at 300 Front Street in Ripley, Ohio, at 2:00 p.m., on Sunday, October 12, 2014.

The dialogue for the re-enactment was written by Catherine Bache of Louisville, Kentucky. Bache is a high school student who is completing a project to attain a Girl Scout Gold Award. The Gold Award is on the same level of accomplishment as the Eagle Scout designation given by the Boy Scouts.

Bache is the second family member to obtain the Gold Award, as her older sister previously completed her work for this prestigious rank. Catherine and her mother recently attended the national convention of Underground Railroad research in Detroit, which was sponsored by the National Park Service - Network to Freedom. Professors from major universities in the United States and Canada presented their most recent research on female conductors of the Underground Railroad - the focus of the convention.

Locally, Rita Thomas-Edie, (Maysville Community and Technical College) delivered a paper about Rev. John G. Fee's former emancipated bondswoman, Juliet Miles, and her unsuccessful attempt to free ten of her family members from both Mason and Bracken counties. Three of the presentations centered on this area: Juliet's story, the well-known "Eliza" escape to Rev. John Rankin, and the kidnapping of Eliza Jane Johnson by Arthur Fox, Jr. of Dover.

During Bache's re-enactment, guests can become program participants - journeying through events as freed slaves traveling on the Underground Railroad with a conductor who will arrive just in time to lead you to freedom. On the journey, you might have brief meetings with groups along the way: Quakers, bounty hunters, and freed African Americans who will attempt to hide you on your hour-long journey north to freedom across the Ohio River in John Parker's borderland of Ripley, Ohio.

The re-enactment had its premiere in Louisville recently at the famous Locust Grove historical site. Nearly twenty re-enactors, dressed in full costume of the era, spoke the words of both freedom seekers and slave catchers. Representatives of the Parker Museum in attendance came away overcome with emotion and respect with Bache's outstanding research and original costuming. The guests quickly acquired a personal connection with the freedom seeker they represented on their travel through the "borderland" and escape from slavery.

The park and museum facilities can handle a great number of guests, but participants in the hour-long re-enactment will be limited to 20 -25. Older Girl Scout troop members are encouraged to participate in this rare event!

There will be a charge of $10.00 for those who take part in the drama - spectators are free of charge. Participants should be over 12 years of age. Please, call 937-392-4188 and leave a message that you want to be a participant; someone will get back with you to confirm your reservation. All in attendance should dress for an action-filled outdoor event. Light refreshments will be served at its conclusion.

RE-ELECT EARL BUSH

Bracken County Judge Executive

To make Bracken County a better place to live, work and raise a family—that was my goal when I ran for Bracken County Judge Executive four years ago. By working responsibly, focusing on the issues, making tough decisions and spending your tax dollars wisely, Bracken County has made much progress:

- Lowered the general fund tax rate
- Increased the county's reserve or savings in the general fund
- Improved infrastructure throughout the county (roads, bridges, sidewalks, culverts, slips, paving)
- Added and improved recreational areas
- Developed a vehicle and equipment replacement program

MCTC to host Ribbon Cutting for the Student Veteran Resource Center

Maysville Community and Technical College will host a ribbon cutting ceremony on Friday, September 26th to recognize the grand opening of the Student Veteran Resource Center, located on the Maysville campus. The event will be held in the Calvert Lounge starting at 10:00 a.m.

Guest speakers will include Kentucky Commissioner of Veterans Affairs Heather French Henry and MCTC student and former marine, Cody Wolfe. "The Student Veteran Resource Center represents so much more than a place for student veterans to study, work on projects and unwind between classes; it's a reminder of our appreciation to the commitment that these men and women have made to our country," stated MCTC President, Dr. Ed Story.

The Student Veteran Resource Center will be accessible to students whenever the campus is opened and will offer a coffee station and refrigerator. It's equipped with couches, a television and desks for studying. "Making the transition from soldier to college student can be tough, and we hope this will help make the transition a little smoother," said Admissions Advisor, Steve Crail. Crail initiated the idea for the Center and has been instrumental in its formation. "This is a great place for veterans to bond with other veterans and to learn more about their G.I.

Bill."

The event is open to the public and refreshments will be served.
